Company overview

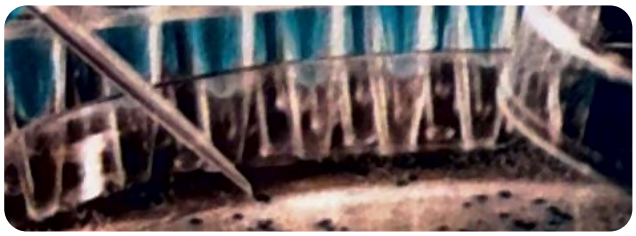

A supplier built for formulators

Omicron Pharmatech Private Limited is an R&D-driven, vertically integrated pharmaceutical startup company that innovates, manufactures and sells speciality chemicals, excipients, vitamin analogues, APIs and their intermediates. Our main focus is on high-tech items and niche areas of the chemical industry. We also have a business setup where we do in-house research, scale up and commercialise under CRAMS (Contract Research and Manufacturing Services).

Vision

In line with our experience in contract research and manufacturing services (CRAMS), our vision is to build robust R&D services and to commercialise chemicals that involve complex chemistry and have a good export market.

Goal

- Carry out R&D on chemicals, the majority of which are currently imported into India.
- Develop APIs and their related intermediates where only a few suppliers exist in the domestic market, giving the company vertical growth.

What sets us apart

Collaboration. We work closely with customers to map and meet their future needs quickly, and to deliver substantial returns.

Complete solutions. We start from each customer's requirement and the challenges they face, and supply what solves it.

Ethics. We operate with strong ethical values and in line with applicable ethical principles.
